INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors of Friends of the Canadian Museum for Human Rights Inc.

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Friends of the Canadian Museum for Human Rights Inc. (the "Entity"), which comprise the statement of financial position as at March 31, 2023, the statements of operations, changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies (hereinafter referred to as the "financial statements").

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Entity as at March 31, 2023, and its results of operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our auditor's report.

We are independent of the Entity in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Canada and we have fulfilled our other responsibilities in accordance with these requirements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Entity's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Entity or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Entity's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.

We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Entity's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Entity's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Entity to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

- Communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

FRIENDS OF THE CANADIAN MUSEUM FOR HUMAN RIGHTS INC.

Notes to Financial Statements

Year ended March 31, 2023

Friends of the Canadian Museum for Human Rights Inc. (the “Organization”) was established by Israel Asper O.C., O.M., Q.C., L.L.D. to act as the project proponent for the establishment of the Canadian Museum for Human Rights (the “Museum”). The Museum was created by an Act of Parliament on March 13, 2008.

The Organization is incorporated without share capital under the laws of Manitoba. Its principal activity is raising funds from individuals, foundations, corporations and governments to support capital, endowment and programming exclusively for the Museum. The Organization is responsible for funding its operating expenses through private sector donations and other revenue. The Organization is registered as a charity with registration number 855114732 and is therefore exempt from income tax.

1. Significant accounting policies:

The financial statements have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

(a) Fund accounting:

The Organization follows the restricted fund method of accounting for contributions.

The Restricted Fund reports only those resources that are to be used specifically for the Organization’s operating expenses, education and programming projects of the Museum, and for capital costs of the Museum, including site development, building construction, interior furnishings, exhibits and other capital costs.

The Endowment Fund reports resources contributed for endowment which are to be managed in perpetuity. Investment income earned on resources of the Endowment Fund is reported in the Endowment Fund and used only for specific purposes as designated by the donors. The Organization has also established an endowment fund at The Winnipeg Foundation to assist in managing funds (note 7).

(b) Financial instruments:

Financial instruments are recorded at fair value on initial recognition. Freestanding derivative instruments that are not in a qualifying hedging relationship and equity instruments that are quoted in an active market are subsequently measured at fair value. All other financial instruments are subsequently recorded at cost or amortized cost, unless management has elected to carry the instruments at fair value. The Organization has elected to carry pledges receivable at fair value.

FRIENDS OF THE CANADIAN MUSEUM FOR HUMAN RIGHTS INC.

1. Significant accounting policies (continued):

Transaction costs incurred on the acquisition of financial instruments measured subsequently at fair value are expensed as incurred. All other financial instruments are adjusted by transaction costs incurred on acquisition and financing costs, which are amortized using the straight-line method.

Financial assets are assessed for impairment on an annual basis at the end of the fiscal year if there are indicators of impairment. If there is an indicator of impairment, the Organization determines if there is a significant adverse change in the expected amount or timing of future cash flows from the financial asset. If there is a significant adverse change in the expected cash flows, the carrying value of the financial asset is reduced to the highest of the present value of the expected cash flows, the amount that could be realized from selling the financial asset or the amount the Organization expects to realize by exercising its right to any collateral. If events and circumstances reverse in a future period, an impairment loss will be reversed to the extent of the improvement, not exceeding the initial carrying value.

(c) Revenue recognition:

Contributions including pledges are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured. Pledges receivable are recorded at the net present value of the estimated future cash flows of the pledges at prevailing market rates. Non-cash contributions of goods or services are recorded at their fair value as revenue and expense on the date of contribution. For the year ended March 31, 2023, non-cash contributions of goods and services of $239,396 are included in revenue and expenses (2022 - $166,244).

(d) Contributed services:

Volunteers are an integral part of carrying out the activities of the Organization. These contributed services are not recognized in the financial statements because of the difficulty in determining their fair value.

(e) Use of estimates:

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. Significant items subject to such estimates and assumptions include the carrying amount of pledges receivable. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

1. Significant accounting policies (continued):

(f) Government assistance:

Government assistance related to current expenses is included in the determination of revenue for the year when the related expenditures are incurred. A liability to repay government assistance, if any, is recorded in the period in which the conditions arise that causes the assistance to become repayable.

2. Memorandum of Understanding:

The Organization signed a new Memorandum of Understanding (the MOU) on December 14, 2016 with the Museum. An Amendment to the MOU was signed on November 21, 2018 to update the governance section of the MOU to reflect that the Organization is responsible for the performance and oversight of all aspects of its operations. Subsequent to year end the MOU was extended to December 14, 2023 on May 25, 2023.

Under the terms of the MOU, the Organization is responsible for identifying and nurturing relationships with potential donors and sponsors, soliciting pledges, cash, securities, gifts in kind, real and intellectual property, planned gifts and other private resources for the financial support of the Museum, and acknowledging and stewarding such gifts in accordance with donor intent and its fiduciary responsibilities. The Organization remains committed to raising, managing, distributing and stewarding financial resources to support the various activities of the Museum in fulfilling its mandate. The Museum and the Organization will mutually determine funding priorities each year for capital campaigns, endowment requirements and unrestricted funding.

The Organization is responsible for funding received through private sector donations, other revenues and its operating expenditures as provided for in its approved annual budget. After the Organization has paid all of its operating expenses and repaid all of its bank lines of credit, the Organization will forward all remaining funds to the Museum as provided for in the MOU.
